MEMPHIS APPEAL.

SERMONS ADDRESSED TO THE CLERGY.—No. 4.

[From the San Francisco News Letter.]

"Cut it down, why cumbereth it the ground."
[Luke, XIII: 7.

Now our parable is of a fig tree which flourished greatly in a vineyard; it grew green and leafy, and spread its broad shadow around, and doubtless thought itself a great ornament to the spot, and took to itself all the promises of scripture concerning fig trees in general. Perhaps the time had been when it, too, bore its harvest of fruit with its fellows, and men ate of it, and went away refreshed; but now it felt that it did enough for mankind when it drew up the rich nourishment from the soil round its roots, and transformed it into massive branches and spreading foliage. But it bore no more fruit; therefore, the Master was not satisfied with it, and gave command to cut it down. And when that fiat went forth we hear of no miracle done to save it. Its usefulness being passed, God himself would not interpose in its behalf. Is not the parable as true now as then? In the body of man let a muscle become useless and how soon it will dwindle away. In a community let a class, once fulfilling an office of wide-spreading consequence to the social economy, cease to accomplish the results expected of it, and the day of its doom is not far off. Either in the storm of revolution, or by the quiet force of desuetude, it must pass away. The remnant, the vestige of it, may remain, as the ruined castles and abbeys of Europe point with skeleton finger to the time when barons set kings and nations at defiance, and priests trod the laws of God and man under foot. But it will have life and power among men no more. "Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit shall be hewn down and cast into the fire." So may it ever be. Let the belief that so it surely shall be, comfort us who live in such a forest of trees that bear no fruit at all, or only evil fruit; let us look carefully, too, into all that grows and flourishes around us, for only that, the very roots of which are true, shall resist the power of time—time that tries all things, and ruins and sweeps away all things, save only the eternal and unchangeable truth. For that, let no man fear; it will abide when seas and continents have changed their places, and when the things of to-day are all forgotten. All other things begin and flourish and pass away; and there is no need to mourn over this, for better things come in their place. Time was when, in the ideas of man, no nation was complete, no government was secure, without a king. Now the freest and most vigorous nations upon earth have no king, and recognize self-government as the highest form of national existence. Time was when marriage was no better than legalized concubinage, and concubinage itself was held as lawful and right, not injurious to the State, and not degrading in its influence. Time was when among all nations, the father possessed the right of life and death over his children; they were his, body and soul, from the hour of birth to that of death, and he might do as he pleased with his own. Now, these notions of the ancient world have all passed away, or linger only among the weak, dead, old nations of the world. With them have passed the institutions to which they gave birth, and which were their fit expression—despotism, polygamy and slavery. Is it better or worse since then? Have men lost or gained by this passing away of what was once held to be the highest and divinest truth? Distorted, mutilated, mixed in more than equal parts with falsehood, to the men of those days it was truth the best truth they could grasp, because the best they were fit for, and therefore it throve and flourished, and they throve and flourished under it, until it bore them no more fruit, and then it was cut down to make room for the better things they had attained to. Time was, too, when man's only idea of worship was sacrifice, bloodshed, or offerings made to appease an offended deity, to avert some fate of unknown horror. To such worship as this, the office of the priesthood was a necessity, and in so far as man still clings, however unconsciously, to this dark ancient notion, so far are the clergy still a necessary evil upon the earth, a broken reed for the weak to lean upon. It is for this reason, also, that the teaching of the clergy of all sects and creeds always forms, more or less distinctly, this notion of worship and this notion of the Deity in man. Their own existence depends upon it. When this is gone into the tomb of the dead and buried past, the work of the clergy on earth is done, the season of their fruitfulness is over; they, too, must pass away. They struggled hard against it for the tithes of mint and cummin and anniseed are pleasant to have; the high seats in the synagogues, and the greetings in the market places, are as tempting to them to-day as to the Scribes and Pharisees of old. And so, whenever a Renan writes, a Theodore Parker preaches, or a Colenso questions, what more piteous spectacle is there, what sight more fit to make men laugh and angels weep, than the clergy and their believers, rushing to bolster up and barricade the failing edifice which they have chosen to suppose is the church of God? It is plain that they, at least, do not believe that it can never be shaken, or that the purposes of God concerning it can never fall short of their fulfillment. The weak among them—and they are the most numerous—cry out, and honestly believe that the heavens themselves are falling; the knaves—and they are the strongest—would move the heavens; ay! if it were possible, would shake God himself upon his throne to make their position tenable a little longer, just a little longer yet, to last their time; and the good men and true, who dare not lie, and fear nothing in this world or the next so much as what is false, these—and they are everywhere the leaven of the mass—must come forth from the midst of their brethren. Are they not doing so now? They must confess and not be afraid, saying: "We are not holier than you, we have no right to be called your shepherds; we are not wiser than you and we have no right to teach you; we are children crying in the dark; we will learn and not teach." Ye men of the clergy, ye who dare not face in your own souls the dark places of your theologies, come forth now and speak the truth, as men that love God should do; tell us frankly how ignorant you are, and how mistaken you have been; tell us frankly that you know no more than we do, often not half as much; that the savage can puzzle you with his questions, and the child can teach you wisdom. Say openly that you are disappointed in that your preachings and your prayings, your baptisms and your holy days, and all your endless mummeries, have not made you one whit better men than you were before. And henceforth trust God a little more, and yourselves and your Ancient Order a little less; come forth out of that into the real world and live there with us, work with us and suffer with us, and confess yourselves men like us; believe no longer the lie that comes clothed in authority, rather than the truth that comes clothed in the naked majesty of facts; believe in a God that made all the laws of the universe, and not a part of them only. If ye love him and his truth, from which good fruit only can spring, cut down, cut down yourselves, this barren fig-tree. Perish it must, whether ye will or no, for its day of fruitfulness is past; it does but cumber the ground.

ENOCH ASTER.

Claim to the Abyssinian Throne.

Among the numerous applications to the British Government which the Abyssinian expedition has occasioned, is one from Rome, addressed to the Secretary of State, and signed "Fr. Alexander Ms. Marzara Bridgetower." In this letter the writer says that his maternal grandfather was born in England, and was the son of an Abyssinian gentleman, who, for private reasons, was compelled to leave his country. The son became a great favorite of George III., and was named by the King, George Bridgetower. He says his great grandfather was the rightful heir to the throne of Abyssinia. Paternal hatred and family misfortunes have deprived him of the means of proving his case, but he is diligently seeking them at home and abroad. He, however, possesses incontestible proof that his great-grandfather proceeded to Rome and kissed the Pontiff's foot, besides visiting London, Paris and Dresden. Archbishop Manning and the English Consul at Alexandria have been applied to, and will doubtless furnish valuable information. Mons. Blancheri, Vicar Apostolic of Abyssinia, has discovered by an inscription in the church at Massowah, that the writer is descended on the mother's side from King Solomon, and his installation as King would be gratefully hailed by all Abyssinians. The writer thinks this a favorable moment for mounting the throne of King Theodore, and hopes he will be meantime recognized as great nephew of the "Black Prince," by which title this Abyssinian noble was known in Europe. To this letter a reply has been sent by direction of Lord Stanley, acquainting Mr. Bridgetower that Her Majesty's government have no intention of interfering with the succession to the throne of Abyssinia.

Two of the ladies killed at the recent railroad accident near Cincinnati, were, during the war, banished from New Orleans by Banks because they failed to salute Admiral Porter and lady, with whom he was walking.

IT IS said Dickens has expressed a regret almost amounting to unwillingness, to read in Chicago, from the fact that his brother, a clerk in the Illinois Central Railroad's employ, died so recently in that city.

THE LABOR QUESTION IN THE OLD DOMINION.

The Lynchburg Advertiser has the following, in a leading editorial upon the condition of labor:

The great problem with the farmer of Virginia now is, how to improve their large estates, at the same time drawing an income from them. If they rent out their lands to negroes, or to such tenants as they usually find willing to rent, the damage to their estate from careless and unskillful cultivation generally exceeds the rent. If they attempt to cultivate all their lands themselves, even if they could get an abundance of labor, they cannot get the capital to carry on so large a business properly. The advocates of large farms state, very correctly, that English experience has demonstrated that large farms are more profitable than small ones; but they forget that, according to English experience, a very large capital is necessary to carry on a large farm. Nor can we procure in sufficient numbers small tenants from abroad, who will be able to carry on farming on their own account, without assistance. Most of those immigrants who have money to carry on business by themselves will be tempted by the low price of land to buy a small home instead of renting.

There is, however, one plan, and but one, by which the farmers of Virginia can successfully manage so as to secure the great ends which they have in view, of deriving a reasonable income from their large estates and at the same time improving the land without risk and without the expenditure of much money, and without continuing their dependence on idle and worthless freedmen who are more intent on getting possession of the land by political leagues than cultivating it for honest wages. That plan is the adoption of the "Cotter System" of England and Scotland. The Cotter system, which came into use in Great Britain when white slavery was abolished there long ago, has been the very life of British agriculture ever since, and its introduction into Virginia under similar circumstances would be attended with like beneficial results. Indeed, our circumstances are so favorable to its introduction, at this time, from our large surplus of ill cultivated yet intrinsically valuable land, that we would have a great advantage over the British farmer, and we might reasonably expect the system to be even more successful here than it has been in England and Scotland. The Cotter system takes its name from its distinguishing feature, the settlement of the farm laborers in cottages, each family living in their own cottage, and supporting themselves by the cultivation of a little ground attached to the cottage, and by laboring on the estate on which they live, or for the neighboring farmers, as well as by service as domestics when occasion offers. In England and Scotland they now pay rent for their little cabin and patch of ground, to which there is usually annexed the common right to fuel and the privilege of grazing a cow or two on the common pasture of the estate, though in former times it was most common for them to pay only a nominal rent. The advantages of this system are many and great. In a moral point of view, the home influences are of inestimable value to the laboring class, when they live thus independently in families, and the family ties keeping the laborers in one locality, the neighboring farmers have a sure supply of skilled labor when they want it. Again, this system enables the laborer and his family to derive the greater part of their support from what costs the landlord comparatively nothing, and he is thus enabled to work when the farmer needs his services, at such wages that he can make a reasonable profit from his business. This is a most important consideration. It is plain that the laborer and his family must be supported the whole year, and unless a support is given them in this way, they must get it out of their wages or steal it.

We are assured by the officers of the Virginia Immigration Society that the Society is prepared to furnish thousands of families of English and Scotch cotters to the farmers of Virginia if they will give them each a cabin and ten acres of land with fuel, rent free for five years, and seventy-five cents a day wages, (the laborer finding himself,) and the laborer will bind himself to work for his landlord whenever wanted. Or if the farmers prefer it, the cotters will gladly cultivate as much of their land as they can properly cultivate and manure, on the same terms they make with the freedmen, either for a part of the crop or paying rent and hiring the teams and plows of farmers. With the same opportunities that the freedmen have had for the last three years, these thrifty cotters would soon be able to take long leases on parts of the farms, paying handsome rents and improving the land at the same time. We trust that our farmers will speedily avail themselves of the opportunity now afforded them to reorganize their system of farming on a sound and economical basis, and that before the next season opens they will have supplied themselves with this English and Scotch labor.

SUICIDE OF A FATALIST AND A PHILOSOPHER.

A few days ago, near Fond du Lac, Wis., the badly decomposed body of a man was found in an obscure place among some forest brush. The deceased was a man of medium size, and was dressed in a dark sack coat, light brown pants, black felt hat, and congress gaiters. His hair was of a reddish cast. A pair of pocket combs, a ring containing a large brass key and four smaller ones, and a pocket diary for 1867, were the only articles found on his person. The latter contained all that is known of the man. The following statements were found in the diary, and were written in a good, steady hand, and, with with one or two exceptions, every word was correctly spelled:

"SATURDAY, September 14.

"In all well regulated communities not among the least officers to watch over the welfare of its citizens is that of coroner. It is a check to crime, and conducive to the morality and welfare of society.

"Believing that the good town of Fond du Lac has among its representative officers a coroner, these lines are most respectfully addressed, believing that it will aid him and his jury in arriving at their verdict, should they be called in my case as they undoubtedly will.

"Be it known to whom it may concern, that I, A. G. Alden, have this, the 14th day of September, in the year 1867, being in a sane state of mind, laboring under no excitement, enjoying good bodily health, have taken into my stomach ten grains of morphine for the sole purpose of putting me into an eternal sleep; yea, the sleep of death.

"My reasons are of no importance to the people here. I will only say that I am a fatalist, and have had a presentiment for the past two years that I would come to this, and there is no use in trying to stave it off; it is sure to come, and there is no fitter time than to-day. If there have been clouds in my life, the sun shines on me now, and I am not unhappy.

"I am expecting a small amount of money by mail; enough to pay a small board bill of two weeks and my burial expenses. I have nothing more to say.

A. G. ALDEN."

On the opposite side of the sheet is the following:

"I have just taken it with peaches, and calmly await the results. My pencil is so blunt I can hardly write. I should judge it was about 1 o'clock. Where will I be to-morrow at 1 o'clock? Echo answers, Where?

"9 o'clock p.m.

"I have made a mistake. I should have taken thirty grains. I must leave it till to-morrow.

"SUNDAY, 15th.

"Twenty grains to day will finish the job. I have felt rather sick this morning, from the effects of the small dose, but that will soon be over."

On another page, not written in as good a hand as the preceding:

"My pulse is growing weaker; I think it will have its intended effect, although I one day took three ounces (3 oz.) of laudanum, but my strong constitution and strong vitality threw it off; it did not even make me sleepy; but if ten grains of morphine do not do it, I shall think I am the second edition of the Wandering Jew, but I begin to feel the effects of it through my system.

"I have always thought that I could meet death calmly, and find it even so; I feel perfectly happy and resigned to my fate."

Death of an Old Huntress.

A late number of the Irish Times says: "Molly Neville, an old woman who had led a very remarkable life, died in the Wexford County Dispensary some days ago. During the last thirty years she maintained herself by a gun, shooting wild fowl on Raven Strand, near the entrance to Wexford Harbor, where she resided. She was also an excellent fisher, and every day proceeded to town to sell the spoils she had gained. A short time ago she lost the use of her right arm by the bursting of her fowling piece, and, though deprived of the chief means of subsistence, took up fishing with redoubled energy. In appearance she was masculine, and wore a peculiarly striking dress, having in general a man's hat and coat. Her comfortable little cabin was built by herself out of wrecked timber and seaweed, and the furniture it contained was also the work of her own hands. She principally favored men with her society, and often competed in shooting contests, the accuracy of her aim being a matter of some surprise. At her decease she was seventy years of age."

THE Le Journal du Bas Rhin says that the last season at Baden-Baden has been the best in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. There were 53,000 strangers there, and no adventure, not a suicide, nor a scandal.

IN entering upon another commercial year, with the experience of the past, fraught with the many vicissitudes incident to a changed system of agriculture, and for which most of our planters were little prepared, resulting in heavy loss to planter and merchant, as an experiment tried, we shall adopt a rigid cash system in our business—taking no risk, and making our sales prompt upon receipt of consignments, remitting proceeds with as little delay as possible; but in all cases obeying instructions of shippers, and using our best endeavors to promote the interest of our patrons.
Our arrangements for furnishing Supplies, Bagging, Rope, Gunnies, Groceries and Provisions are such, that we promise to furnish them at our lowest market price, and make it as much, or more, to your interest to order through us, than to purchase in person.

THE DESOTO
Commercial College.

A NIGHT SESSION, IN CONNECTION with this College, is now inaugurated. As a temporary arrangement, the Class meets in the SOUTHWESTERN PUBLISHING HOUSE, No. 37 SOUTH COURT STREET.

The course of instruction is eminently practical as well as scientific, embracing everything necessary to fit young men for the efficient discharge of the duties of an Accountant and Book-keeper in a merchant's office. The student goes through precisely the same routine of journalizing, posting into his ledger, and closing his books, and then making out his balance sheet, as he would in actual business. This process is renewed an indefinite number of times, till he becomes as familiar with these operations and as expert in performing them, as if he had spent a long apprenticeship in the Counting House.

TERMS.—For Night Session (in advance) one month, $8; three months, $20.

Stenography.

This elegant and beautiful art, so indispensable to the public journalist, the lawyer, clergyman and student, and so invaluable to the business man, is taught successfully in TEN LESSONS for $10. For further information apply to the undersigned, during the usual hours of business, or at night, at the Southwestern Publishing House.

The Night Session commences at half-past 6 and closes at 9.

PATENT MEDICINES.

MRS. JACKSON'S
Queen Bess Complexion Wash.

THE following certificates, selected from hundreds in the possession of the proprietress, are confidently submitted to the public:

MRS. WOLCOTT'S CERTIFICATE.
QUINCY, Ill., November 5, 1866.

MRS. JACKSON, Dear Madam—It is with pleasure that I certify to you, that seeing one of your circulars, which contained certificates and indorsements from the best physicians and the highest medical authorities of the United States, certifying that your oils for the complexion and teeth were purely the oils, extracts, and essences of flowers, and they warrant it when used according to directions to cure the worst and most difficult cases of nursing, sore mouth, canker of the stomach, bowels and dyspepsia. For scrofulous disorders, when used both internally and externally, it has no equal. Dear Madam, seeing this, and my little daughter, aged fifteen months, having the whooping cough for several months, accompanied with what the doctors call white canker, her mouth and throat being terribly ulcerated, and I having tried everything for its relief I could hear of, all to no purpose, I bought one bottle of your oil for the complexion, called "Queen Bess," went according to the directions, did not use quite one bottle, and I am most happy to state to you that it has cured my child. She is now as well and hearty as ever she was in her life. I give you this, my certificate, hoping you will publish it, that thousands of others who may be afflicted with any of the above affections may at once get a bottle of your "Queen Bess," for I feel sure they will find immediate relief.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. GEO. WOLCOTT,
Jersey street, bet. Sixth and Seventh.

MRS. WM. B. COLLINS' CERTIFICATE.
HANNIBAL, Mo., August 22, 1866.

MRS. JACKSON, Dear Madam—I am most happy to inform you that after having suffered more than three years with what some physicians call nursing sore mouth, or canker of the mouth and throat, I tried various remedies, but found nothing to do me any good until I heard of your oils for the complexion and teeth, called "Queen Bess." I bought one bottle, went according to directions, and am truly thankful to say I have found a permanent cure. Hoping you will publish this, that other poor sufferers may be benefitted by it, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
MRS. WM. B. COLLINS.

THE AFRICAN IN LONDON.

One of the London journals has recently been horrified by the exhibition in Egyptian Hall, in that metropolis, of the tricks of a gang of Algerines, "half niggers and half Turkos," which very much shocks the sensibilities and tries the refinement of our classic cotemporary. He says that Egyptian Hall has been dedicated to "literature, music and the arts," and very naturally protests against it being prostituted to such low exhibitions as he describes. He closes his article on the "African Convulsionnaires" in the following solemn summons to the officers of the law to attend to the case of the novel entertainers of the English metropolis: "Reviewing the entire performance of these savages, we have only one question to ask: Where are the police?"

The following are some of the tricks of this African and Turko show, to which we wish to ask the attention of the readers of the APPEAL:

While one unseemly brute goes through his exciting exhibition on the stage, the rest of the gang squat round in a half-moon, thumping upon tomtoms, and uttering a series of dismal yelps, which pass current for Arab minstrelsy. Then one of the party devours a cactus leaf—a slice of prickly pear it may be; after which Kmida Ben Mustapha performs a war dance. Live snakes, four feet long and an inch thick, are produced. These noisome reptiles the fellow coils around his neck, and allows to bite his tongue, till they hang like strings of sausages from his mouth. The next buffoon eats the bowl of a wine glass, munching the crystal between his teeth, we are told, with considerable gusto. A third mountebank proceeds to balance himself on an unsheathed sword, and subsequently ties a rope round his naked waist, which a dozen persons proceed to pull so hard that the cord appears to enter into his very flesh. Next he seizes an instrument which seems to act like a centre-bit, and having inserted the point in his left eye, he works the handle round and round, until the eye-ball is found three-parts out of its place, presenting a most horrible appearance. Mohammed then goes on to puncture himself with skewers; but this, after the gouging process, must be considered a mere bagatelle. One skewer he pokes through his tongue, another through his cheek, and a third through his lip. To prove that the perforations are real, he walks among the audience and permits skeptics to examine the holes and to touch the skewers.

The hemorrhage, it is stated, is very slight. A big negro, Haradji Ben Ali, now presents himself, and, having capered maniacally to the drubbing of the tomtoms, holds a lighted torch to his neck, chin, and mouth, "without suffering any inconvenience." He afterward places a lump of charcoal in his mouth, at which lucifer matches and cigars are lit. First, he holds the charcoal between his teeth; afterward he places it on his tongue. We are not told whether he finally swallows it, and whether it does him good. The man who has half gouged himself, further obliges the company by biting off the head and tail of a live serpent, which he deliberately chews, throwing the live portion to the audience for examination. The effect produced on the spectators by these filthy and barbarous acts, it is said, was the reverse of agreeable.

The tricks of these "African and Turko" showmen are nothing to compare to those of the African and Radical brethren in these Southern States. The war-dances, tongue-biting, glass-eating, ope-squeezing, sword-balancing, eye-gouging, lip-boring and mouth-burning which are indulged in at some of the Radical gatherings in the South would fairly astonish the audience at Egyptian Hall. The war-dances of HUNNICUTT will eclipse those of any Turko. The tongue-biting of the Algerine snakes is a mere circumstance to the Radical essays to wound the tongue of opinion, the public press. The glass eating of the native Ethiopians does not hold a comparison with the articles which are daily bolted by the assembled showmen at Montgomery, Atlanta, Richmond and New Orleans. In these shows they chew and digest the rights and liberties of the white race who have been freemen prescriptively from time immemorial. It is said, too, that they occasionally gouge the eyes of their Radical brethren at the North, and even bore their lips by acts and language which are so far in advance of the Northern gospel as to seriously interfere with their capacity either to "see it" through the lights of the Southern wing or to open their lips in defence of the horrid and novel exhibition.

Even the Northern Radicals can manipulate torches with singular felicity. BROWNLOW and FORNEY vie with each other in the use of these instruments of devastation. But they propose more serious work than the Algerine jugglers. They propose to use them for purposes that would make our delicate London cotemporary demand a special constabulary force for their suppression.

Can the Turko and Africans of Egyptian Hall, not only crunch and swallow goblets, but can they actually subsist on cold iron? If they cannot, we have a performer in our city who would be a living miracle among them. His inspiration, as a public showman, is derived from Greenlaw Hall in this city, when he received the nomination of the mixed commission of black and white Radicals for the office of Mayor. It is actually related and can be perfectly authenticated that his subsistence is now derived from (tacks) tax-titles, and that he has never been known to grunt in devouring them. There is yet another Radical candidate, for the same office, who lives on gas, and it is said lives like an Alderman.

These are all curious developments of the African talent to astonish mankind by seeming aberrations from the regular course of nature. As long as Africa is on the rampage, as it now is in St. Domingo, Hayti, Jamaica, the United States, Abyssinia and Egyptian Hall, we may expect to witness shocking scenes, convulsions, episodes from the regular march of history, eating of live coals, flourishing of torches and numerous scenes which will even challenge the disgust of Exeter Hall. Mr. GREELEY may not be seriously affected, for he is reputed to have an ostrich-like digestion. FORNEY may even be delighted. It is his role. SUMNER may continue to get off his flowing periods and his learned nonsense. THAD. STEVENS may rejoice in having organized several hells, and die with the conviction that he will inherit heaven. But mankind generally will participate in the disgust of the London Telegraph, and will unite with him in calling for some licensed police to abate so detestable and universal a nuisance.

THE RESOURCES OF OREGON.

There is no portion of the wide domain comprised within the limits of the Union that offers greater inducements to the young and hardy emigrant than this great State, and the adjacent Territory of Idaho. Blessed with a climate of such salubrity that fevers of any type are almost unknown, and with hundreds of miles of rich prairie abounding in a peculiar quality of grass known by experience to be highly nutricious for all kinds of stock during the entire winter; and having no beast of prey larger or more destructive than the kayota—a small species of wolf closely resembling in size and habits the red fox of the Middle States. Cattle and sheep rearing since the first settlement of the Territory is, and has been, very successful, and may be here considered freer from casualties than in almost any other locality in the United States. [illegible] lands along the beautifully clear Columbia and Willamette rivers are at once fertile and healthy, and well adapted to cereals of all kinds, fruits and vegetables, the latter particularly, which we have here seen of extraordinary size and flavor. The wild strawberry and salmon-berry are of natural growth, of very superior size and excellence, and are met with throughout widely extended districts. All the rivers and streams abound with the delicious salmon, brook trout, and other varieties of the finest fish, and grouse of seven distinct varieties are numerous in the highlands or prairies, according to the habits of the several species. The rich and varied mineral wealth of these States is too well known to require comment, and offers other fields of industry to those who prefer mining or mechanical labor to agricultural pursuits; but in the opinion of the writer of this article, who spent some years in the State, there is no surer or easier means of securing independence and ultimate wealth than by rearing stock and sheep for the marts of California and Arizona. During the past year, over one hundred thousand sheep have been exported from Oregon to California and commanded there, as they must continue to do for many years, prices that will remunerate the stock farmer and drover. Last, but not least of the considerations that just now must forcibly commend itself to our Southern people, is the fact that there are not probably one thousand citizens of African descent within the boundaries of this favored State; and the character of the climate, which resembles that of Southern Pennsylvania, though somewhat milder, together with other causes, will combine to render Oregon, for all time to come, emphatically a white man's country.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, December 12.—In the Senate the Finance Committee reported the House bill without amendment, providing for the repeal of the cotton tax.

Representative Eliot, of Massachusetts, has drawn up a joint resolution to retain in service until July, all volunteer officers connected with the Freedmen's Bureau. Gen. Grant, by a recent order, musters them all out on the 1st of January, and Mr. Eliot's object is to retain them until July, when the Bureau goes out of existence, unless there is further legislation on the subject. Several Bureau officers are here lobbying for the proposition.

The President sent to the Senate this evening an official notice of his suspension of Secretary Stanton from office under the Civil Tenure law, together with his reasons for such suspension. The document covered some official correspondence between the President and Mr. Stanton, but in the main they show on the part of the President that Secretary Stanton "obstructed him in the execution of the laws," and in official orders arising under them. The whole matter was referred to the Judiciary Committee for future action.

The rumored contemplated removal of one hundred clerks from the Pension Office and the suggestion of the Joint Committee on Retrenchment, that three hundred be dismissed from the Treasury, have caused quite a commotion among office holders.

The Republican Senators held a caucus this morning on the subject of a new election of officers of that body, but adjourned without even taking a ballot, the conclusion being that such changes at this time are not demanded.

Gen. Sheridan is expected here in about two weeks.

There is reason now for saying that Gens. Mead, Thomas and Schofield are all coming here soon for a consultation with Gen. Grant on military matters.

The fourth article of the new treaty for the purchase of the Danish West Indies declares the cession is to be deemed complete and absolute on the exchange of ratifications, without waiting for a formal delivery. This is looked upon in the House as anticipating contrary action on its part.

In the Senate to-day no important legislative business was transacted. Most of the session was consumed in a speech of Reverdy Johnson in defense of the President and in reply to Mr. Drake's speech of Tuesday last.

The House talked over a good deal of miscellaneous business, but accomplished but little. A considerable number of resolutions were referred, among which was one providing for colored diplomatic representatives of the government at Hayti and Africa.

FROM LITTLE ROCK.

Arkansas Up and Doing—Democrats in Council—Enthusiastic Meeting.

Special Dispatch to Memphis Appeal.]

LITTLE ROCK, December 14.—The call for a Democratic Convention, to be held to-day at this place, brought together a large and enthusiastic crowd of the opponents of negro suffrage. A majority of the white citizens of Pulaski county were in attendance, and stirring speeches were made by some of the best men of the State. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Resolutions were adopted, and the party is to be thoroughly reorganized to defeat the ends of the Radicals. The action of the State Central Committee was ratified. County Executive Committees were appointed, and arrangements made to perfect township organizations throughout the State. The party is confident of defeating the negro constitution when submitted to the people, and the results thus far have surprised and exceeded the anticipations of the originators of the movement.

Formal Offer to Sell Cuba and Porto Rico to the United States—Gen. Moniez Brutally Killed—Casualties by the Clerkenwell Explosion—Col. Kelly Supposed to be Still in England—Trial of Burke and Casey—English Prisoners in Abyssinia Still Alive—New Constitution Adopted in Vienna.

NEW YORK, December 14.—A special Cuba cable dispatch says: Intelligence has been received from Spain to the effect that the Spanish Government has made a formal offer to the American Minister at Madrid to sell Cuba and Porto Rico to the American Government for $150,000,000 in gold. Terms of sale—$50,000,000 in gold, cash, on signing of treaty and formal delivery of the islands. 2nd. $50,000,000 in gold to be paid one year after date; third installment at the end of six years. Great excitement prevails over this news.

LONDON, December 14.—Police authorities this morning report three killed and many badly injured by the Clerkenwell explosion yesterday. Excitement in the city last evening was very great. Nearly all the morning journals have an article on the explosion, and declare that the time for leniency to Fenians has expired. The Times is particularly decided in its remarks and closes a lengthy article with the following words: "Let there be no more clemency for Fenianism, which is a mixture of treason and assassination." Rumors are current that Col. Kelly, Fenian, who was rescued at Manchester, is still in England, directing the operations of the Brotherhood. Some openly assert that the explosion was the result of one of his schemes.

LONDON, December 14.—Dispatches received to-day show that the English prisoners in the hands of the Abyssinian king are alive and well.

A force of 4000 muskets—Egyptians—have joined the English expedition.

EVENING.—Burke and Casey, two of the Clerkenwell prisoners, were brought to Bow street to day for examination. Nothing was elicited and the prisoners were remanded. During the examination Burke took occasion to deny all knowledge of the cause of the recent explosion.

The Internal Improvement Committee, to whom was referred the memorial of R. B. Meeker and other Northern capitalists, and bill incorporating the same, reported in favor of its adoption.

A bill to appropriate $53,475 to pay the operatives of the Memphis, Clarksville and Louisville Railroad. Referred to the Committee on Claims.

A bill to amend the charter of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, and for other purposes. Passed.

The consideration of the House bill in reference to common carriers, allowing colored people to ride in the same cars with whites, was made the special order for to-morrow.

Adjourned to 9 a.m., Friday.

HOUSE.

Mr. Hammer presented a protest against the passage of the bill to provide for the auditing of claims of loyal citizens for losses incurred by the rebellion.

By Mr. Thornburg, of Grainger—A resolution authorizing the printing of the journals of the rebel legislature of 1861-2. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Senate bill No. 16—To reduce the military expenses of the State. Passed second reading and made the special order for to-morrow.

House bill No. 104.—To change the place of holding the Supreme Court for the Western District of the State from Jackson, Madison county to Brownsville, Haywood county. The Judiciary Committee recommended the rejection of the bill. The House refused to concur in the report of the committee.

Mr. Ryder moved to insert Memphis instead of Brownsville. Laid upon the table.

The bill then passed second reading by a vote of 35 to 34.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Senate amendment to House bill No. 76—to amend the charter of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate bill No. 142—to authorize the issue of bonds to the amount of $300,000 by the city of Nashville. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Senate bill No. 4—Requiring receivers of railroads to file with the Comptroller a monthly statement of receipts and disbursements, and to give a bond of $50,000 for the faithful discharge of their duties; and authorizing the Governor to remove such receivers when, in his opinion, the interest of the State requires it. Passed second reading.

House bill No. 302—To amend the act authorizing the Governor to employ a Superintendent of the Capitol and Capitol grounds. Passed third reading.

NEW YORK, December 12.—A large number of officers of United States colored troops have been mustered out, among them Brig.-Gen. C. H. Howard, who will doubtless be retained as a civilian Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau in the Washington District. A number of officers of the veteran reserve corps have also been mustered out.

A special says the Senate Finance Committee to-day agreed to report the House bill for the repeal of the tax on cotton. It will probably pass the Senate without amendment. Another special, however, says the bill has been materially amended concerning the present crop.

Executors' Sale
—OF THE—
HOMESTEAD TRACT
—OF—
GEN. SAMUEL J. HAYS,
At Jackson, Tenn.
AS the Executors of the will of the testator, we shall, through Messrs. ROYSTER, TREZEVANT & CO., Auctioneers, offer at public sale, upon the premises,
On Thursday, 16th day of January,
The beautiful and valuable Homestead Tract of the late Gen. SAMUEL J. HAYS, containing 1150 acres of land in and immediately adjacent to the city of Jackson, Tenn., subdivided into Lots and small Tracts, suitable for Residences and small Farms. The Mansion is one of the most elegant and spacious in Tennessee, situated on beautiful and highly ornamented ground. The advantages of Railroad facilities from the two roads now in operation, to be increased by the Vincennes and New Orleans Air Line road, passing through Paducah and connecting with the Mississippi Central at this point, make it a center of commercial and manufacturing importance which has given vitality and growth to Jackson, even under all the depressing influences which have retarded almost every other place in the South. In society and health, Jackson is notoriously one of the most attractive cities in the South.
TERMS OF SALE.—Third cash; balance in one and two years, with interest, secured by trust deeds.

DRY GOODS.

THE IMPENDING CRASH!
O THE
CITIZENS OF MEMPHIS.
THAT THE money market is stringent, and nothing to warrant the hope that the near future may bring forth a better state of things, is but too strongly evidenced by the many and large failures, not alone in Memphis, but all over the country.
In view of those stern facts we have, after two week's diligent attention, succeeded in going through our immense stock from 1st to 4th floor, and marking down the same to prices that ill repay our labor.
As an enumeration of our IMMENSE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK would occupy too much time and space, we shall confine ourselves to a mention of the leading departments in our house, hoping thereby to attract the desired notice without resorting to the pettifogging system of enumerating "catch penny" prices in connection with certain articles of but little or no value at best.
Our house being one of the oldest—if not the Oldest Dry Goods Establishment in Memphis, and, we presume, in point of reliability and the means to sustain any losses the times may inflict, second to none in the city, we trust any announcement emanating from us may be received in the true and genuine light it is intended.
We have never carried on our business on the strength of newspaper "puffs" and placards, nor do we intend to do it now; but Dry Goods being about to resume their old standard value, we think it but due to our many kind old patrons to make them aware of the great and sudden decline in our prices.
The departments will be comprised in the following, viz:
CLOAK AND SHAWL ROOM,
An elegant assortment of
BLACK VELVET DE LYON SACQUES,
BLACK AND COLORED do. do.,
BLACK CLOTH do. do.,
CHINCHILLA, do.
A large and well assorted stock of
WOOL SHAWLS,
HOODS, NUBIAS,
BREAKFAST CAPES, ETC., ETC.
FURS, FURS, FURS.
An extensive variety of FURS at very attractive prices.
SILK DEPARTMENT.
A newly selected stock of SILKS—some nice evening shades.
Our Line of Black Silks Defies Competition,
as regards quality and price.
DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT,
Embraces
IRISH POPLINS in all shades and colors,
FRENCH, NORWICH, REGISTER,
LYONNAISE and VELVET POPLINS.
Also, a large stock of
MERINOS,
EMPRESS CLOTH,
BLACK AND GOLD—in endless variety,
BOMBAZINES,
WOOL PLAIDS, ETC, ETC.
Some beautiful new goods for Walking and Dressing Suits.
HOSIERY & GLOVE DEPARTMENT.
A full and beautifully selected stock of
LADIES' AND MISSES' HOSIERY,
ALEXANDRE'S GLOVES.
A full line of Ladies', Gents', Youths' and Misses' Underwear.
Linen and Housekeeping Department.
We have the most complete stock. Irish Linens from the best recognized manufacturers. Table Damasks—single and double, Napkins and Doylies, Towels and Towelling, Crash, etc., etc.
The most complete stock of Blankets and Flannels we have ever had. Counterpanes and Quilts—a large stock.
CLOTH DEPARTMENT.
A magnificent stock of Black Cloths—French, Italian and German—Tweeds for Boys' Suits, Scotch and West of England Tweeds, Cloakings—extremely pretty.
Boot and Shoe Department.
A complete stock of Miles Boots and Shoes.
TO PLANTERS.
Our stock of Planters' Goods is too well known to need any remarks other than call attention to it.
It is replete with Boots, Shoes and Brogans, Hats, Clothing in endless variety and of best material.
PLAIN AND PLAID LINSEY.
Kerseys and Jeans, Osnaburgs and Stripes.
In fact everything that is needed by the Planter in the shape of Dry Goods, and at figures that will insure his satisfaction.
In addition to the above many inducements, we have for Salesmen young men who, for attention and politeness, and knowledge of their business, cannot be excelled, if equalled, in this city.
As we are not "closing out" nor running away from the city, we don't desire to make any statements that will meet refutation; therefore give us a call, and thereby satisfy yourselves and gratify us.

WANTED—THE PATENT

AURORA OIL.

We want men everywhere to study their own interest. The right to manufacture and sell the Patent Aurora Oil in a single county will make more money to the purchaser in three months than the largest farm in your State will make in a whole year. The Aurora Oil actually costs less than one-half the price of Coal Oil, and the illuminating power of the Aurora Oil is as much superior to the Coal Oil as the Coal Oil is to a tallow candle, and is no more explosive than a tallow candle. Any Lamp that will burn Coal Oil will burn the Aurora Oil. It does not smoke the chimney. It does not smell, will not grease or stain the finest linen—not even white cloth. The material for its manufacture is inexhaustible. One man can make seventy-five barrels per day. No machinery required. We will pay your fare to and from the city of Memphis and bills while here, if we cannot prove all, and even more, than we have stated. A single county is a small fortune to the man of enterprise, and the right to a State is untold worth.

THE "CONTEMPT" CASE has been continued until Wednesday. Up to the present it has decidedly had a farcical aspect.

SERENADE.—His colored friends serenaded Dr. Beecher on Friday night. He told them that he could not be with them that evening at the meeting, he had to be somewhere else, but his heart was with them socially and politically!

ARRESTED.—Two colored persons, Richards and Wilson, were arrested on Friday and taken to the Causey street Stationhouse, for stealing a pair of boots from the store of S. Gayhay, on Beal street. The result of their examination has not transpired.

PERSONAL.—We were pleased to meet yesterday Mr. Chas. H. Sargeant, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, who is sojourning for a short time in our midst. The enterprising news agent Joe Locke, No. 22 Jefferson street, has been appointed agent for this most excellent journal.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.—Mr. A. J. Day, the popular Southwestern passenger agent of the Illinois Central Railroad, passed through our city yesterday on his way to Mississippi. He will be found a courteous gentleman, whom we commend to our friends in that section.

A LOST HORSE.—Messrs. Taylor, McBain & Co. made complaint at police headquarters yesterday, that they were minus a sorrel horse which was taken from their stables on the night of Thursday last, during the fire. A full description has been given, and it is to be hoped that the animal may be restored right speedily.

GRAND LARCENY.—Paralee Richardson, a fair African of the colored persuasion, was brought before Justice Walton's court yesterday, on a charge of grand larceny. No responsible party being willing to sign her bond for two thousand dollars, she was sent to jail as all dishonest servants should be.

ANOTHER BURGLARY.—A white man named Harrison Pigues was lodged in jail yesterday, charged with attempting to break into the house of a white lady near Collierville. Not being able to give the necessary bonds he was handed over to the Sheriff, who gave him quarters in the county hotel on Adams street.

A PISTOL THIEF.—One of the colored citizens named Charles Richards was arrested on a warrant issued by Mr. Justice Walton, charged with stealing a pistol from a colored brother named Charley, in South Memphis. The Justice thought the evidence sufficient to send him up on.

GROCERIES.—We would advise our readers to examine the prices of groceries at Ivinson's. He has just received a large stock, bought from first hands, and in such quantities that actually city and country dealers can purchase at less prices than can be found elsewhere. At any rate, it will be no trouble to examine his prices.

FIRE YESTERDAY MORNING.—About two o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out at the grocery of R. R. Durant, on the Pigeon Roost road. Very little of the stock was saved, and the building was burned to the ground. The property was valued at three thousand dollars, and insured for eighteen hundred. The fire was doubtless the work of an incendiary.

ORPHANS' FAIR.—The ladies in charge of the tables for the Orphans' Fair are making every effort to render it a complete success. Donations of all kinds for this purpose will be thankfully received. Notwithstanding the stringency of the times, the good and devoted Sisters in charge of the tables feel assured that the orphans' appeal to the community for necessary aid will meet with a hearty and generous response.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.—The two negro women, Fannie Lee and Lucy Littlejohn, charged with robbing Madame Louisa Wray of a quantity of clothing and jewelry, were brought before Mr. Justice Walton yesterday, who, on hearing the evidence fully, committed the accused to jail, there to await a summons from the Criminal Court. A portion of the jewelry has been recovered by special Constable Robinson.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday, where Capt. Tom Duffin's carts did not shed their copious showers, the severely cutting ("nipping and an eager air") gale blew up lots of dust. Occasional clouds gathered into dense masses, but were again driven away by the force of old Boreas. In the evening the stars were out with unwonted brilliancy, and Hoar John was out too on one of his fantastic tramps. There will be blue noses that venture out this morning, on this side of Nova Scotia.

ON SUSPICION.—A colored boy, calling himself Wm. Harrison, was locked up for having a mare, the property of Wm. Harrison, a discharged soldier, who had been recently paid off, and had bought the mare with part of the money. He lives about twenty-five miles from Mound City, in Arkansas. The boy claimed to be a brother of Wm. Harrison, and says his name is Wm. Harrison also. He is in Causey stationhouse, and the animal with Diggs & Wofford, till the real Wm. Harrison shall arrive.

MESSRS. MEACHAM & TREADWELL.—These gentlemen are cotton factors, commission merchants and grocers, and their firm is one of the most reputable and substantial of our city merchants. They are gentlemen of well-known integrity and high business character, and their stock of groceries is unusually large and well selected. They have a fine country trade, hardly second to any other house in the city, and stand deservedly high among our merchants, who are familiar with the high standard of their operations.

HYMENIAL.—The matrimonial market for the week ending yesterday was unusually dull. The number of licenses were very few, while the certificates returned were only six, showing that the following parties had been legally united in the holy bonds: R. W. Bledsoe and Miss S. H. Williford, November 6th; J. M. Williford and Miss Nellie J. Bledsoe, November 7th; R. B. Shepherd and Miss Margaret A. McSpadden, November 27th; Oscar L. Slater and Miss Martha L. Harper, November 28th; Sam. Jones and Juno Clay, July 12th; Frank Shepherd and Jennie Bollison, July 12th.

MAYORALTY.

Messrs. Editors: There have been several spasmodic efforts on the part of the Memphis Bulletin to create division and confusion in public opinion on the subject of the Mayoralty, and it seems only anxious that the present incumbent should not be re-elected. While it is in favor of this gentleman or that one, provided he can be elected, it roundly asserts that it "would prefer that Col. Topp should be forced into the field, for the sake of the aid he would give in this important canvass." As if actuated by a cowardly determination to insinuate everything diabolical, by inuendo, that could be inferred against the administration of Mayor Lofland, it loses no opportunity, in commending another, to reflect upon what it terms "former mismanagers." The careful concealment of facts, and the knavish exhibition of extravagant hypotheses to the disparagement of one who has labored sedulously, consistently and unfalteringly for the public service and the city's interests, are apparent in every hypocritical sniffle that the plausible demagogue attempts. For instance, in the Bulletin of the 14th, appears the following covert attack upon Mayor Lofland:

"The city is not only bankrupted, but every day adds to the burden; and that, too, in the face of the fact that there was collected last year, from the people living in Memphis, about eight hundred and forty or fifty thousand dollars in taxes! It only needs a wise management of these immense resources—just such as every prudent business man gives to his affairs every day—to remedy all our wrongs, and to wipe out our present financial inability. With property assessed at thirty six millions, and with people paying every year exorbitant taxes, it must be very bad management that is reducing the city to almost bankruptcy. It only needs a man of positive qualities, with a head capable of originating a policy, and a backbone to execute it, and all will come right. But this has been our difficulty."

Let us pause one moment before discussing this profound and elaborate exhibition of philosophical acumen, to show that the toad, fabulously described as wearing a jewel in its head, has nothing there of the sort, and is hopping about very eccentrically. The thing commences by declaring "The city is not only bankrupted, but every day adds to the burden;" and before twenty lines are written, concludes that "it must be very bad management that is reducing the city to almost bankruptcy." This at least shows that the self-sufficient individual who is torturing himself and his readers to invent detraction against Mayor Lofland, is not himself satisfied that the city is "bankrupted," for he says that "it must be very bad management that is reducing the city to almost bankruptcy." We dismiss this crude manifestation of a violent disposition to intimate objections to the present Mayor, as too contemptible for further comment, and beneath criticism.

At the time Mayor Lofland entered upon the duties of Mayor, the debt of the city amounted to $803,650. In his first message to the Board, October 23, 1865, he said: "This is a heavy debt, and it will require great energy and skill to manage it successfully. I have confidence, however, that our very able Finance Committee will direct their experience and talent to the subject, and by proper application of the ample resources of the city, have the gratification during the year, of very much reducing the debt, and partially restoring our lost credit." Now, this fact was not permitted to see daylight, when the Bulletin was conceiving the best mode of injuring the Mayor in public estimation. It only intended to convey the idea that the difficulties and embarrassments might be easily brushed away by a Mayor who possessed "a head capable of originating a policy, and a backbone to execute it," thus strongly insinuating that Mayor Lofland possessed neither of these qualities so essential in a municipal officer, while the facts to the contrary are easily demonstrable from the record.

In the first message, to which we have already briefly adverted, Mayor Lofland impresses economy on the Board in the following expressive and judicious language:

"It is expected that this administration will be one of retrenchment and economy; but it should not be one of that sort of spasmodic retrenchment which sometimes runs into the other extreme; but such a reform as experience and close observation will warrant in making without detriment to the general good."

Here it will be observed that he counsels and advises properly with the Board, through whose instrumentality and cooperation alone the Mayor is capable of doing anything. They came into office under the public expectation that they would unite cordially in the discharge of their duties to the city. If all have not been accomplished that had been anticipated, it has not been through any refractory spirit on the part of either, and they have moved as harmoniously along as could have been anticipated, and have toiled industrially in the city's behalf. There is one point that may be made in settlement of the Bulletin's objections, and for which the Mayor should receive a full share of credit—we allude to the city money which was prepared and issued last spring, and which would have proved a great success, had it not been nipped in the bud by the act of Congress, which was interpreted to amount to prohibition. Arrangements had been made by the Mayor and Finance Committee to have their "money" protected until 1869, by half-a-dozen of the strongest bankers in the city, and men began to breathe freely, and confidence was reviving with the relief experienced, when the fatal order to stop was received. Was not this policy originated by Mayor Lofland? Would the United States Deputy Marshal have had the "backbone" to persevere in the face of the Congressional ukase?

We leave the subject to-day, only to resume it again, for in our opinion it is better our articles should be brief, than to devote so much space as would be required for a complete vindication in a single paper. We are satisfied we can show that Mayor Lofland deserves the unqualified approbation, for his public services, of his FELLOW-CITIZENS.

THE "FANNY THURSTON" LECTURES.—Capt. John R. Flippin will deliver the opening lecture, of the winter series of lectures, for the benefit of the widows and orphans of Confederate soldiers, at the Greenlaw Opera House, on Tuesday night next, the 17th, at 7 o'clock—subject: Men, Women and Things. Good music will be given at the opening and close of the lecture, and a recitation from James H. Sullivan. Very many calls have been made upon me to start the lectures again, for the double purpose which they so greatly subserved before—that of a literary nature as well as charity—and while neither I or any other man with his hands full of private business can afford the time and attention necessary to conduct successfully such an enterprise, still, if the good people of Memphis, every one of whom is as much interested as I can be, will lend me their aid, by giving up every other Tuesday night to the lectures for the widows and the orphans, I am willing to do all in my power to carry the movement through. The lectures in future will be delivered at the Opera House—it being impossible to secure any other suitable hall in the city, and to get this I have to advance seventy-five dollars each night out of my own pocket, and take the chances of getting it back from the paltry admission fee of fifty cents. I will venture this on Capt. Flippin's lecture. Will you stand by me in this new effort to give the cultivated people of Memphis an occasional entertainment of the higher order, and the widows and orphans a small benefit?
JOHN S. KERR,
Chairman Lecture Committee.

LARGE STOCK OF CARPETS.—Messrs. Royster, Trezevant & Co., at their large salesrooms, in the Ayres Block, Second street, are disposing rapidly of their splendid stock of carpeting, oil cloths, rugs, mats, etc., and at great bargains. Those who want a really superb, and at the same time useful article, should call and examine their five grain English body Brussels, English tapestry Brussels, Three Ply, etc., that are not only elegant in appearance and of beautiful patterns, but of the most durable description. In newly furnishing a house, a fine carpet is of the first consideration, and no better opportunity has been presented of securing such a desideratum, at comparatively an insignificant expense. Call early if a selection be desirable. First come, first served.

MORE OF THE HICKORY WITHE AFFAIR.—Not long since we published an account of the attacks of a desperado, near Hickory Withe Depot, on Messrs. Greenlea and Battle—of his afterwards being recognized and summarily hanged. The death of the leader did not dispirit his band, who, though industriously pursued, were not overtaken. They are now determined to avenge the fate of their fallen leader. Several attempts have been made on the life of Mr. Greenlea, and persons have been shot at from the Loosahatchie swamp and from behind the brush. Mr. Greenlea deems himself in peril, and seriously contemplates leaving the neighborhood lest "the avenger" should accomplish his threat. Is there no way of extirpating the brigands?

CHILDREN OF ISRAEL.—The preparations for the Fair, to be given at the Greenlaw Club Rooms, during the latter part of the month, for the benefit of "the Congregation Children of Israel," are being steadily prosecuted, much interest being taken therein by our Hebrew fellow-citizens. Under the management of the efficient committees appointed, the Fair cannot but prove to be a perfect success. Those who attend will be amply repaid for the expenditure.

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—The engagement of Miss Cecile Rush closed last evening with the sensation drama of The Child Stealer, in which she appeared as the heroine. We do not much affect such plays, but Miss Rush has every reason to be satisfied with the impression she has made on Memphis audiences. That last evening would have been larger, but the evening was blustering and severely cold. On Monday evening a New candidate for Memphis honors will appear in the person of Mr. Frank Mayo, a gentleman who has held a leading position in the Boston theater, and is known as the young and talented California actor. He is said to be one of the very best "Hamlets" on the boards, and will make his debut here in that character. That there will be a large audience there can be no doubt. Our citizens are in excellent condition to see something in the legitimate way, and the strong caste of "Hamlet," with the addition of Mr. Waldron as "Horatio," gives promise of a most interesting entertainment.

TEMPERANCE FAIR AND FESTIVAL.—We notice that the Sons and Daughters of Temperance are all making ample and inviting preparations for a grand fair and festival at the Greenlaw Hall. Their is no organization that deserves more sympathy and admiration than the Sons of Temperance in this city. The order is composed to a large extent of young men. They have courageously and nobly adhered to their principles, and pursued their purpose of working a social reform in the midst of all discouragements. Their efforts have been crowned with great success, and to-day they are a numerous, compact and influential body. The object of the fair is, we understand, to make arrangements for the reception in becoming style of the Grand Division of the United States, which meets in this city next January. The Temperance Halls need fitting up, the poor need assistance, the struggling victims of intemperance who are snatched from the tyrant's grasp need help, and the order need and ought to receive the co-operation of the true and good of this community. Let all help in this noble effort. Mrs. Cocke, Mrs. Sim, the Misses Price, Miss Flaherty, Miss Bruce, Mrs. Campbell, Miss Grant, and others, will have charge of the tables.

ORPHANS' FAIR.—At the Orphans' Fair, which will be held in the Exchange Building during Christmas week, a splendid pair of gold and silver mounted and plated pistols will be voted to the most popular police captain. We have seen the case, and pronounce it superb. The arms are all that could be asked for—enclosed in a beautiful mahogany case, in which will be found the bullet moulds, etc. The contest will be lively. The more given to the orphans the better.

THE VARIETIES.—The Varieties Theater, under the management of Mr. Broom, was well attended last night. The performance was of the usual Saturday night order—the players doing their best.

LOCKE, No. 22 Jefferson street, Avalanche building, has just received Godey and Peterson for January, Budget of Fun, Comic Monthly, Southern Home Journal, Frank Leslie newspapers, Leslie's Boys' and Girls' Weekly, Pen and Pencil, Police News, National Freemason, Clipper, Irish Citizen, Irish People, Freemasons' Journal, Metropolitan Record, Irish American, Turf, Field and Farm, La Crosse Democrat, Banner of Light, Boston Pilot, Sporting Times, Chimney Corner, Literary Album, Harper's Bazar, Waverly Magazine, Scientific American, Courier des Etats Unis, Harper's Weekly, all of the latest magazines, weeklies and dailies. He is also agent for the Cincinnati Enquirer, one of the soundest papers published. Give Joe a call, and he will supply you with everything in his line, including books, stationery, etc.

A CARD TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.—We the undersigned, having been dreadfully deceived by the ticket agent of the Memphis and Louisville Railroad, 237½ Main street, Memphis, Tenn., deem it a duty we owe the traveling public to notify them, to keep them from being swindled as we were. We wanted to come the best and quickest route to Chattanooga, and he told us that it was much nearer and cheaper via McKenzie and Nashville, and sixty miles nearer. We purchased tickets via McKenzie Wednesday, and did not arrive in Chattanooga until Friday morning; whereas, if we had taken the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, we would have arrived in Chattanooga Thursday at 3 o'clock. We will never travel over that route again.

ROHRANS HOUSE.—To-morrow morning, the 16th inst., this conveniently located hotel, (38 Adams street, between Main and Second streets,) will be opened to the custom and patronage of the public. In addition to the comforts and accommodations offered by a first-class hotel, on the European plan, there is connected with the establishment a first-class saloon, with the finest liquors, cigars, etc., to be found in the city. Those who desire to combine the comforts of excellent living with the luxury of well-furnished apartments, can have the satisfaction of enjoying both, by availing themselves of the conveniences here offered.

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street and 393 Main street, have received the Police News, Frank Leslie, Boys' and Girls' Weekly, Home Journal, Staats Zeitung, New York Weekly, Police Gazette, Harpers' Weekly, Pen and Pencil Weekly No. 36, New York Clipper, Chimney Corner, Literary Album, New York Ledger, Metropolitan Record, Southern Opinion, Round Table, American Artisan, The Dime Illustrated, Scientific American, Saturday Night, London News; also, Madam Demorest's Mirror of Fashion for Fall and Winter, Godey's Lady's Book, Peterson's Magazine for January, and dailies from everywhere.

BY DEPUTY.—At the Radical meeting at the Centenary Church on Friday night, the Radical nominee for Mayor, Dr. Beecher, failed to appear. He was represented by deputy, Ed. Shaw, a colored individual, undertaking to be his spokesman. The crowd would not listen to the deputy, and adjourned while that worthy advocate was enlarging on the great obligations due their regular candidate, whose character was of their own color! Mr. Fitch was present, and made a speech which won the approbation of several of the descendants of Ham.

ED. AND LOU.—Messrs. Ed. Webb and Lou Webb will open the saloon in the Bethell block, 280 Main street, to-morrow morning, when they will be more than glad to see their old friends and customers. These polite young gentlemen cannot fail to draw hugely. We wish them all success in their new house. They deserve good calls and will doubtless receive them. Their stock of wines, liquors and cigars cannot be excelled in the city.

BOHR & PRINCE.—These gentlemen keep in their establishment, No. 40 Jefferson street, up stairs, tin, copper and sheet ironware, which they manufacture in short order and in a manner to render entire satisfaction. These gentlemen are young in years, but enjoy a long experience and unusual facilities for the manufacture of the above articles. They pay particular attention to roofing, guttering and spouting. See card for further information.

THE following telegrams remain uncalled for in the office: C. M. Doherty, Guy Thorpe, Thomas Doubleday, J. H. Juskeep, Capt. Alex. Zeerger, McRae & Walker, Dillard, Pinson & Co., Galbreath, Stewart & Co., Partee & Harbert, Longley, Mulholland & Co., Miss F. Davis, G. Falls & Co., R. R. Pittman & Co., C. F. Smith, A. S. Editors Memphis Appeal:

Feeling highly complimented by the call made upon me through the press of the city to become a candidate for the office of Mayor, I feel that to accept and announce myself as a candidate would be bad policy, for the reason that with the present incumbent in the field asserting his intention to run the race through, it would be impossible for either to succeed only in electing one of the Radical candidates. In view of these facts, I would suggest that our Conservative citizens call a Convention at an early day, to determine who is the most acceptable man to put forward as their standard-bearer in the coming contest for the Mayoralty. I believe this to be the only method to bring about a unity of sentiment and feeling so necessary to insure success. Whilst I am willing to serve the interests of the city, I am unwilling to sacrifice those interests in aiding the opposition by the use of my name at present.

Very respectfully,
W. H. PASSMORE.

MRS. JACKSON'S QUEEN BESS WASH AND COMPLEXION POWDER.—We take pleasure in calling the attention of the ladies and public generally, and especially the druggists in the city and country, to the above named celebrated beautifier. Mrs. Jackson, in order to remove from the minds of the public the prejudice now existing in regard to the many cosmetics now before them, has submitted for inspection and analysis her Queen Bess Wash and Complexion Powder to the oldest and most celebrated French and German chemists in the United States, and they warrant it to contain no acid or poisonous mineral which could in any possible manner injure the skin or teeth, it being purely the oil, extracts and essence of our choicest flowers, a few applications being sufficient to remove all tan, freckles, pimples, or any eruptions which are such bitter enemies to the beauty of the face, and as a dentrifice for the teeth it has no equal. Ladies and gentlemen need not fear to give it a trial. We published, a few days ago, a certificate from one of our best and well known French chemists and pharmaceutists, Enno Sanders, under Barnum and Southern Hotels, St. Louis, and we believe it to be what it is recommended. We feel certain that the above name would not have come out in connection with it were it not all that is claimed for it. It is not only recommended as as external beautifier, but it is prescribed by some of our first-class physicians as a sure cure for ulcerated sore mouth, gums or throat, it being mother nature's own healing balm. Mrs. Jackson therefore respectfully solicits the ladies and druggists to call on J. B. Wasson & Co., wholesale agents, No. 318 Main street, and examine her preparation free of charge. Manufacturing depot No. 113 North Sixth street, St. Louis, Mo. Agents (male and female) wanted to introduce the above article. Liberal compensation allowed.

All you economical housewives who want prints at twelve cents, four-fourths bleached domestic at ten cents, cotton flannels at twenty cents, also a fine line of towel-crash, table-cloth, etc., call on M. Kraus & Co., No. 218 Main street, at their closing out sale.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

LOUISVILLE, December 14.—The river is rising slowly, with three feet eight inches in the canal. There has been an incessant snowstorm since 8 o'clock last night. Thermometer 28.

ST. LOUIS, December 14.—Weather is milder, with three inches snow on the ground.

Yesterday was a pleasant and beautiful day—just cool enough to make an overcoat comfortable. We have no change to report in the rivers below. The Upper Mississippi is falling rapidly, owing to the gorge of ice at Fort Madison. At Keokuk the river fell three feet in twelve hours. At Hat Island there is less than four feet. The Missouri is reported rising at St. Joseph, with mild weather. Of the Ohio the Commercial of Friday says: "The snowstorm of yesterday prevailed from New York to the lakes, and westward to St. Louis. The freezing weather is making ice rapidly in the Ohio, from Pittsburg to Pomeroy, and to-morrow we will have a fair floating crop from Pomeroy to Evansville. Fortunately, the Ohio river is rising at Parkersburg, which may prevent it from being gorged with ice. At Pittsburg last night, there were three feet, and on a stand; at Wheeling, four feet ten inches, and falling; at Parkersburg, seven feet, and rising; at Pomeroy it rose three and a half feet yesterday, with six and one-half feet on "Eight Mile;" at Gallipolis, three and one-half feet, and rising, with four feet, and on a stand reported in the Kanawha river; at Cincinnati, it rose five and one-half inches yesterday, but was stationary last night; at Louisville, it is rising, with three and one-half feet in the canal, and twenty inches in the pass over the falls. There were heavy rains at Frankfort, Ky., Wednesday night, and some snow yesterday, which will cause the Kentucky river to swell. At Vincennes there were heavy rains yesterday, and the Wabash is rising. This will help the Lower Ohio, where there are only thirty inches on French Island, and three feet scant on Shawneetown.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Guidon did not leave for White river yesterday. The Ozark went out in her place.

Capt. John B. Davis and the old crew of the Rowena leave to-night for Louisville, to bring out the Liberty. Capt. Morton goes in the office.

The Commercial, Capt. Ashford, is the regular White river packet for Tuesday. Messrs. Morton, Smithers and Robinson are her clerks.

The Ned Tracey, Capt. Crane, will be in port to leave for Cairo and St. Louis to-day at sundown. Billy Blenker is her clerk.

The B. L. Hodge, Capt. Hugh Montgomery, is the regular New Orleans packet for Monday. Mr. Johnson is her clerk. The Hodge is a No. 1 boat, and will, we hope, get a full trip.

The Florence Traber, Capt. Rube. Haynes, leaves for the Arkansas on Tuesday. McWells is secretary.

The Post Boy, Capt. Zeigler, will back out for Cairo and St. Louis to-day.

The Starlight and Lizzie Hopkins have left Cincinnati for New Orleans.

Several boats were advertised to leave Louisville last night for the South.

The Minneola, for this port, left Cincinnati last night.

The Webster passed Parkersburg on the 12th, with a tow of produce for Memphis.

The Princess left St. Louis for White river last night.

We learn that the Mountaineer is coming down the Missouri with her hull leaking, and that she is under protest, with her freight damaged. She could not take the remains of the Waverly, which, however, the Nile did. The latter is coming along, but when heard from was drawing more water than can be found.

Steamboats were running at St. Joseph last Monday.

At the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company's first meeting of new directors the following officers were elected: Wm. J. Lewis, President; Geo. Pegram, Vice-President; Duncan G. Carter, Secretary; John N. Bofinger, Superintendent. The directors are Wm. J. Lewis, John J. Roe, Adolphus Meier, Gerard B. Allen, George Pegram, Walker B. Carter, Samuel Stillwell, Theodore Lavielle, David Gibson, James W. Goff, John N. Bofinger, Duncan G. Carter.

The Burlington Hawkeye of the 10th says as follows:

"The river closed quite suddenly about 12 o'clock Saturday night, the ice having gorged at the railroad bridge. It is still open below that point. Monday morning foot passengers commenced crossing and kept it up during the day, though the weather was so mild that the ice grew weaker."

The Dubuque Herald of the 10th, says: "The river froze over Sunday night, and yesterday persons walked across on the ice, although it was rather dangerous business. Further down skiffs were the only means of transferring, and nothing but passengers, baggage and light express matter brought over. Until cold weather effectually closes the river, connection between the two shores will be difficult and dangerous, although plenty of yawls and men to man them, are on hand ready for duty."

The Fort Smith Herald of the 7th, says: "Two large flatboats, partly loaded, under the command of Capt. Wm. Reasoner, came to the landing on Monday last. Jeff. Baldwin, is along on the low water crafts. There is something up, when steamboat pilots take to flatboating, especially as venerable and experienced boatmen as Capt. Bill Reasoner."

At Pittsburg on the 12th, the people's packet, Slackwater, elected a new set of directors, and appointed R. R. Abrahams Superintendent, and added twenty-five thousand dollars to the stock. This line has run opposition to the mail line for the last twenty months, and is in a healthy condition.

The Mollie McPike, which left St. Louis on Wednesday for Keokuk, only succeeded in reaching a point seventy-five miles above her starting point. She stored her freight and returned.

The Tarascon and Morning Star resume their trips in the Lower Ohio mail line the coming week.

A vessel has been fitted out at Mobile to proceed to the Island of St. Thomas, for the purpose of seeking the treasure lost in that harbor by the late gale. Unless the reports of the amount of specie which went down with some of the vessels are greatly exaggerated, the undertaking will probably prove a very profitable one. We see it stated that in one single steamer, the Rhone, five millions dollars in specie went to the bottom.

A Mr. Burges, who "booked" Mr. Dickens at Liverpool for his state room, occupied the same desk and performed the same service for him on his former trip to America twenty-five years ago.

Notice to Stockholders.

THE Stockholders of the German National Bank are hereby notified that an election will be held at this Bank, on January 14th, next, from 10 o'clock a.m. until 4 p.m., for the purpose of electing seven Directors to serve during the year 1868.

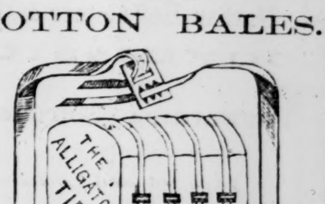
FASSMAN'S IRON TIES

—FOR—

COTTON BALES.



THE ALLIGATOR TIE.

THE undersigned have made extensive arrangements to supply the demand for these Ties the present season.

In addition to the FASSMAN DIAMOND TIE and BUTTON TIE, so extensively used heretofore they now offer his ALLIGATOR TIE, with teeth so arranged as to instantly clamp the hoop when the pressure is removed from the bale, and hold it without slipping.

Great pains have been taken to secure the best quality of iron.

These Ties are so simple in their arrangement that they can be applied by any one, to bales of any size, with the same facility and expedition as rope. In strength, security and facility of application, they will compare favorably with any yet introduced.

The advantages of Iron Ties are now generally recognized; but it is deemed not out of place to call the attention of those interested to the very emphatic recommendation of Underwriters, Steamboat Captains, and Owners and Agents of Sea steamers and Sailing Vessels, recently published in the newspapers in New Orleans.

KAVANAGH & DECKER'S

BILLIARD TABLES

THE most reliable Cushion used on Billiard Tables is the

CAT-GUT CUSHION,

Manufactured by KAVANAGH & DECKER, and Patented Dec. 18, 1866. (See Scientific American, Vol. 16, No. 11.)

It is the only Cushion that possesses all the qualities essential to a Perfect Cushion. It is the most elastic and most durable Cushion ever offered to the billiard-playing public, as is abundantly proven by the great demand for it since its introduction. The peculiarity which distinguishes the Cat-Gut Cushion and renders it superior to all others, is the tightened cord of cat-gut which overlies the face and edge of the rubber and running the full length of the Cushion, which prevents the ball from bedding into the rubber and jumping from the table. The addition of the cat-gut cord also adds much to the elasticity of the Cushion.

The Cat-Gut Cushion has already been applied to over 1000 tables, which are in constant use. It can be applied to tables of any make, for $75 per set.

Kavanagh & Decker's Factory, at the corner of Centre and Canal streets, N. Y., is the most complete of its kind in the world. The machinery is of the most improved character, the lumber drying room the largest in the United States, the material used the best that can be purchased, and the workmen thoroughly skilled.

Billiard Cloth, Balls, Cues and Trimmings, all of the best make, constantly on hand.

Kavanagh & Decker are the only agents in this country for Kay's Cue Cement, adjudged by competent authorities to be the best Cement ever used.

Full size Tables cut down for $100.

WHOLESALE AGENCY.

THE SUBSCRIBER, late a member of this well known firm, has established a Wholesale Agency,

783 Broadway, New York City,

Opposite A. T. Stewart's Dry Goods Palace, corner Tenth street,

Where he will be pleased to receive the order of his friends and public, and especially to hear from those who have so liberally bestowed their patronage on the firm heretofore. He will supply these superior Instruments to the trade, Wholesale and Retail, at the very Lowest Prices, made with the Insulated Iron Rim and Frame (cast in one solid plate.) They excel all others in durability, superiority of tone, and elegance of external appearance.

All these Pianos have overstrung Scales, giving in connection with the patent iron rim and frame, Full, Round, Powerful and Sweet Melow Tones. The Cases are elegant in appearance and easily and safely handled.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.

THESE Instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. se5 d&wly

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, December 14, 1867.

There was a liberal amount of Exchange offered to-day at our discount houses, and the demand was rather light. All our banks are well supplied. The buying rates on New York are steady at ½c discount, and on outside points at ⅛c. New Orleans Exchange is also offered freely and taken at ⅝@¾c off. The checking rates are at par on all points.

Gold opened to-day in New York at 133⅜c, and at noon had advanced ¼c. There was neither offering or demand in this market, and brokers were slow to buy at 132@132½c.

We have no sales of silver to report. The nominal buying rate is 123@124c.

City Scrip is not active, although it is firm at 85c buying. There is none on the market in first hands, and dealers are holding at 87@88c.

There is no change in County Warrants. They sell at 64@65c to brokers who ask 68@70c for large warrants, 75@80c for small.

Police scrip is in good demand. It has been absorded to a large extent and dealers are all short. The offering rate is 82c. Selling at 86@90c.

It was widely announced, some weeks ago, that the persons who had prepared and set afloat the spurious 7-30 notes were under arrest and awaiting trial. Spencer and wife were the accused parties. Spencer was examined last week before the United States Commissioner at Newark, and evidence of the charge utterly failing, was acquitted. Col. Wood, special detective of the Treasury Department, whose achievement in the premises has been so widely trumpeted, was put upon the stand, and swore that there was no such charge pending. The prisoner, he testified, was "interested" in the counterfeiting of $100 compound interest notes and $50 legal tender notes, but not in 7-30s. The interesting witness left the stand, the interesting prisoner was discharged, and the interested public is as much in the dark as ever as to what part and to what extent the 7-30s are genuine or counterfeit.

The coal deposits of Russian America are pronounced valueless, the mineral being found only in small contorted seams. Iron is found in worthless beds of clay, and far up on the Kenkon gold may be obtained, but under such circumstances that it is also valueless, being only workable two months in the year. Stains of copper have been found on rocks near Norton Bay, but no ledge or seam.

The Associated Press dispatches of last night quoting middlings at 15½@15¾c in New York created some excitement in our market this morning, and factors were not disposed to sell until further advices were received. The Liverpool market opened dull and ⅛d lower; Uplands, 7¼d; Orleans, 7⅝d, and at 1 p.m. prices were unchanged—Uplands selling to arrive at 7d. Sales, 10,000 bales. The opening New York dispatch announced that market dull—Middlings 14¾@15c. At noon the market was dull and prices drooping. Receipts at that port for the week were 21,000 bales; sales, 14,000; exports, 9000, and stock on hand 50,000 bales. There was a good inquiry in this market during the day, but there was about ½c difference in the views of buyer and seller. Among the transactions of the day worthy of note we give one sale of 150 bales Middling at 13c, 268 bales bright Middlings 13½c, and 335 bales of a good style Low Middlings at 13c. The market closed firm as follows:

Ordinary	11 @—
Good Ordinary	11½@12
Low Middling	12½@12¾
Middling	13 @13½
Strict Middling	13¾@—
Good Middling	— @—

There was a very fair amount of orders filled yesterday in the way of supplies and prices were firm on all articles. The retail business was also active, and our dry goods houses especially enjoyed a good trade. The stringency of the money market has not prevented liberal purchases at such houses as are advertising liberally the goods they will sell at reduced rates. Low prices will bring out those who are in need of staple articles either for wearing purposes or the use of the plantation, and the way to bring those stocks before the purchaser is to resort to the newspaper. Corn is scarce and in demand for shipment; one or two buyers are on the market from New Orleans and offer 90c for choice white and yellow in good gunnies; ear is scarce and firm at 80@85c. Oats 80c. Bran $33@36c. Hay $25@27. Meal is firmer but is still offered at $4 90@5 for kilndried and $4 75 for fresh; unbolted $4 50. Mess Pork is scarce and firm at $23@24. Prime Mess $20@21. Rump $18. THE MEMPHIS APPEAL

AN UNSURPASSED HYMN.

[In the New Englander for August, 1860, Dr. Bacon pronounces the following exquisite hymn unsurpassed in the English or any other language, and adds that "perhaps it is as near perfection as any uninspired language can be." It is usually ascribed to Hillhouse, the poet—that is, James A. Hillhouse—but according to Dr. Bacon, it was written by his younger brother, Augustus L. Hillhouse, who died near Paris, in March, 1859:]

Tremble before Thine awful throne,
O Lord! in dust my sins I own,
Justice and mercy for my life
Contend! Oh! smile and heal the strife.

The Savior smiles! upon my soul
New tides of hope tumultuous roll—
His voice proclaims my pardon found,
Seraphic transport wings the sound.

Earth has a joy unknown in heaven—
The new born peace of sin forgiven!
Tears of such pure and deep delight,
Ye angels, never dimmed your sight.

Ye saw of old on chaos rise
The beauteous pillars of the skies;
Ye know where morn exulting springs,
And evening folds her drooping wings.

Bright heralds of the Eternal Will,
Abroad His errand ye fulfill;
Or throned in floods of beamy day,
Symphonious in His presence play.

Loud is the song—the heavenly plain,
Is shaken with the choral strain—
And dying echoes, floating far,
Draw music from each chiming star.

But I amid your choir shall shine,
And all your knowledge shall be mine;
Ye on your harps must learn to hear
A second chord that mine will bear.

From the German of Wolfgang Muller.]

SWORD AND PLOUGH.

There once was a count, so I've heard it said—
Who felt that his end drew near;
And he called his sons before his bed,
To part them his goods and gear.

He called for his plough, he called for his sword,
That gallant, good and brave;
They brought him both at their father's word,
And thus he his blessing gave:

"My first-born son, my pride and might,
Do thou my sword retain;
My castle on the lordly hight,
And all my broad domain."

"On thee, my well loved younger boy,
My plough I here bestow;
A peaceful life shalt thou enjoy,
In the quiet vale below."

Contented sank the sire to rest,
Now all was given away;
The sons held true his last behest,
E'en to his dying day.

Now tell us what became of the steel of flame,
Of the castle and its knight?
And tell us what came of the vale so tame,
And the humble peasant wight?

O ask not of me what the end may be!
Ask of the country round!
The castle is dust, the sword is rust,
The hight is but desert ground.

But the vale spreads wide, in the golden pride
Of the Autumn sunlight now;
It teems and it ripens far and wide,
And the honor abides with the plough!

Noon Dispatches.

[WESTERN ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS.]

ATLANTA, December 14.—A mob of about fifty armed negroes threatened, last Tuesday night, to attack some students of the Georgia University, at Athens. The students armed in turn, and a difficulty was imminent. Troops were ordered out, and the negroes were dispersed.

A county Conservative meeting, under call of the Convention at Macon, was held here to-night. Much enthusiasm prevailed, and resolutions were adopted suggesting the assembling of that Convention at Louisville on the 3d of February next, to form a party for the restoration and preservation of the Union on principles based on the Constitution.

NEW YORK, December 14.—The Herald says a deputation of Loyal Leaguers from Virginia, North and South Carolina called on Messrs. Stevens and Butler yesterday. Mr. Stevens said the time for impeachment had passed. As to reconstruction, he said he intended to introduce a bill providing that a majority of registered voters shall not be necessary to ratify the new Constitution; to authorize a loyal provisional government in each State, giving the Governors the appointing power and power to make requisitions for troops when necessary; that two-fifths of the colored people who had no Congressional representation formerly, shall be entitled to elect Congressmen at large for the different States. He reiterated his views on confiscation, and inquired particularly the number of persons owning large estates.

Gen. Butler, after reiterating the sentiments heretofore put forth, said that he would introduce a bill putting all offices South into the hands of loyal people only. He then expressed the belief that instead of there being four, there would be seven millions of negroes in the South.

The National Council of the Union League Association have adjourned, after passing a resolution urging the National Republican Convention not to nominate for President a man who is not in himself an irresistible guarantee that he is a true friend of the cause of the Union, liberal equal rights before the law, and universal manhood suffrage.

The Herald's special says the Senate refuses to sustain the President's suspension of Stanton. If this is persisted in, the President will issue an order removing Stanton, and force him to resort to the Supreme Court.

The President is preparing a veto on the bill striking the word "white" out of all laws relating to the District of Columbia. His views on the subject have been stated in former messages.

LIVERPOOL, December 13—m.—Cotton dull. Estimated sales to-day, 10,000 bales. Uplands 7¼d; Orleans 7⅝d; Uplands to arrive 6@7¼d.

LONDON, December 13.—During an attempt made to-day to release the recently arrested Col. Burke, who was confined in Clerkenwell prison, powder was placed beneath one of the prison walls and exploded. It is supposed to have been the act of Burke's confederates. The whole side of the wall was blown into the air; three adjoining buildings were destroyed. Many persons were injured, and it is feared some lives lost. Much confusion prevails in the vicinity, and it is difficult to ascertain the details.

LONDON, December 13, 9 p.m.—The explosion at the Clerkenwell prison was attended with serious results, but not successful in facilitating the rescue of Burke. The prisoner was confined in an inner cell, and could not escape by the breach in the wall. He has been removed to a place of greater security. The explosion was tremendous in effect. The prison wall and neighboring walls are a mass of ruins. Some lives were lost. It is widely rumored that as many as twenty persons were killed, and that some bodies are buried in the ruins. It seems that in the morning repairs were commenced on the wall. Later in the day some unknown men were seen to roll a barrel, which doubtless contained powder, under a place where repairs were being made, and shortly after this the explosion took place. Two men and a woman, who were found in the vicinity, were arrested on suspicion of being connected with the perpetration of this outrage. Excitement, as yet, is so great that it is impossible to obtain accurate casualties.
